hot take: yes, there is antisemitism on the left. everyone is antisemitic because it is systemic. it grows from the same ideology as white supremacy and nationalism, racism, capitalism, and Christian hegemony.

@aly_mixed_up

Jews: fighting antisemitism MUST include fighting racism, sexism, white supremacy, islamophobia, and ableism not only because of the many identities that Jews hold but because our liberation literally DEPENDS on us fighting all systems of oppression

 I'm a white male who cannot see why people would NOT be offended by what is shown in Northam picture. Standing next to someone dressed in Klan robes makes it clear that's not a (really bad) homage to an African American, it is joking about lynching, murder & oppression.

 My name is 'John' not Jon

Teacher: it should be Jon, that's the Jewish spelling

Me: I'm named after my grandmother Johanna. That's where the "h" comes from.

Teacher: your parents were rejecting your heritage.

Me: She was Jewish enough to be killed by Hitler.

The president of the United States is a white supremacist. Time for media & everyone else to treat him as such

John Dingell @JohnDingell
President Trump just referred to a group of violent white nationalists, supremacists, segregationists, and neo-Nazis as "very fine people."

Ari Berman @AriBerman

In 2020 white population will fall below 60% for first time in US history. Trump is rigging census to maintain white supremacy

Brookings Institution demographer William Frey projects that in the 2020 census, for the first time, the white share of the population will fall below 60 percent. Trump, who won the white vote by 20 points in 2016, would stand to gain politically if the census were manipulated to slow that shift. Undercounting minority populations would do the greatest harm to states like California, which has the most immigrants in the country. A significant undercount in 2020 could cost the state more than $40 billion over a decade and potentially one or two congressional seats and Governor Jerry Brown's chances to expand the minimum wage.

Don't stop at taking down Confederate flag. Restore Voting Rights Act & confront racism thenat.in/1J6007p

So much of the political discussion following the massacre in Charleston has focused on the hateful symbol of the Confederate flag. But racism—and race-based efforts to control the political process—go much deeper than symbolism, which is why the VRA has been so important historically and remains vital today. "You don't fully end the issue of racism," Leahy said, "so long as you're able to block classes of people from voting."

One big problem, which I've been whining about for years, is that Hollywood pulled its head out of its butt in terms of diversity/inclusivity right as theatrical moviegoing ceased to be a casual entertainment option. They were a decade too late due to tentpole fever.

Let's be honest: it's not that white people are especially dedicated to following rules ourselves; we know they don't apply to us. Any obsession we have with rules is squarely focused on "those people."

Beverly Tjerngren @beverlyrevelry

Not one person has "villainized" white boys. It's painfully ironic that you're centering them and their feelings in a discussion about bringing other voices and experiences into the light.

Exactly. It is our responsibility as white people to acknowledge our privilege and call it out every. single. time. Even when it's uncomfortable. Especially when it's uncomfortable.

2:35 PM · 1/23/19 · Twitter for Android

Beverly Tjerngren @beverlyrevelry

I was and am 100% confident that had it gone differently, my explanation would have been accepted with no further consequences.

It didn't occur to me for decades that that confidence was pure white privilege (as is the fact that I never reflected more deeply about it).

Beverly Tjerngren @beverlyrevelry

Had I heard the term "white privilege" back then, I might well have scoffed at the idea. Everybody I met, or knew, or even saw was white, and the "otherness" I was aware of was based on factors other than race. Still, I remember clearly my own first experience of racism.

Beverly Tjerngren @beverlyrevelry

It's been only a matter of years that I've understood that so-called "color-blindness" is its own sort of racism. In refusing to consider the experiences of POC as legitimately different from mine, I was, at the very least, passively complicit in reinforcing white supremacy.

Beverly Tjerngren @beverlyrevelry

Racial slavery is a form of racism.

A less extreme form is structural racism that demands black people be twice as good to get half of white people get and makes white people think even then they're undeserving and blame Jews for them getting it.

OPINION

Finley: AG Nessel puts civil liberties at risk

NOLAN FINLEY | THE DETROIT NEWS

10:29 p.m. EST Mar. 9, 2019

Combating hate crimes is a worthy endeavor. But the new campaign announced by Attorney General Dana Nessel has the real potential to morph into thought policing.

Michigan Department of Civil rights, say they will create a process to document incidents of hate and bias that don't rise to the level of criminal or civil infractions.

That could translate to speech or expressions of opinion that some may find offensive, but are protected by the First Amendment. Bias is protected by the Constitution until it infringes on the rights and freedoms of others, and hate is often in the eye of the beholder.

If what Nessel and Arbulu are targeting are words, thoughts and opinions, this could easily become a weapon to shut down groups they find abhorrent, but are operating within the law.

That's not the charge of their offices.

There's reason to worry that's the direction this will take.

Nessel says she'll start her surveillance with the 31 Michigan organizations that appear on the Southern Poverty Legal Center's list of hate groups.

But the SPLC list is widely discredited as a political tool used to harass and discredit conservative groups.

Spots on the list are earned not necessarily through hateful actions, but for expression of opinions on social issues that don't adhere to left-wing ideology.

Groups have been singled out as hateful by the SPLC for opposing gay marriage, abortion and immigration.

The SPLC is extremely reckless in its selection of groups to include on the hit list.

Last summer it had to pay out more than $3 million to settle a suit filed by a former radical Islamist who was listed as "anti-Muslim" for speaking out against extremism.

One of the Michigan organizations on the SPLC list, Church Militant/St. Michael's Media in Ferndale, is there because it advocates strict Catholic teachings on marriage and is outspoken in its opposition to abortion.

Nessel and Arbulu may not agree, and may find those positions personally repugnant, but the First Amendment guarantees Church Militant the right to express itself on gay marriage and other social issues, and to do so vigorously.

There's no accusation that the Catholic group has ever broken the law, or committed an act of violence against those whose lifestyles it rejects. Subjecting it to a state interrogation would amount to harassing its members for their religious beliefs.

Nessel and Arbulu say they intend to compile and maintain a data base on the groups it identifies as being hate-motivated. Presumably, that means documenting their activities and membership.

Again, that's troublesome in its potential to violate the right to free association, as well as to speech and religion. It could easily become an enemies list to punish political opposition and dissent.

The attorney general should absolutely go after those who violate the state's hate crime laws, and protect the victims of hate.

But the effort she has outlined is risky. Holding opinions that are unpopular, and even widely offensive, does not meet the definition of a hate crime.

Nessel and Arbulu should stand down. In their zeal to rid Michigan of hate, the risk is too great that they will end up trampling the Constitution.

 The problem with having so many intersecting identities (black, Jewish, bisexual) is that I never know why each cishet white goy hates me.
 Is it cause I'm a Negro?
 Is it cause I'm a dirty Jew?
 Is it because I'm a fucking queer?
 Is it some insidious combination of the three?

Hi @TeamYouTube I transcribed JLP's video about us. He encourages his supporters to harass us, calls us "evil", "children of the lie" "the devil" and needlessly points out that my colleague and I are Jewish. He also puts my colleague's twitter handle and picture on screen.

JESSE LEE PETERSON: These are evil people and we're going to have to fight them back. We can't cave anymore. And so I'm asking that you support what we're doing, become subscribers of my radio show, subscribe, follow, tweet, comment, and let Media Matters know what you think about this. Make sure you share and all that good stuff. This is a spiritual battle, it really is and these people represent evil. You saw how they went after Bill O'Reilly look what happened. We've got to unite together and fight with truth against those of evil and check that hit piece on me with Media Matters, a far left liberal organization who just don't want you to wake up. They're not an honest organization, they're an evil organization.

Death of Shamima Begum's baby leads to discussion of UK government's actions

Shamima Begum left London to join the self-styled Islamic State group aged 15. Recently, she gave an interview to The Times newspaper in which she stated she wanted to return to the UK. Soon afterwards, Home Secretary Sajid David stripped her of citizenship. After the death of her newborn son, Jarrah, the Home Secretary has faced criticism.

Conservative columnist says he's changed his mind on reparations in New York Times piece

In a piece titled The Case for Reparations, columnist David Brooks made an emphatic argument for reparations and said he had been convinced by his observations five years after reading Ta-Nehisi's piece on the subject. Brooks said that because the US racial divide was "born out of sin," not strictly class, the policy was even more necessary to right the injustice of slavery.

NYU LAW NEWS

Annual Survey of American Law honors Chief Judge Robert Katzmann

From a lectern in Greenberg Lounge, Robert A. Katzmann, chief judge of the US Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, gestured to his parents, who sat in the front row of the crowded hall. His father, now in his 90s, had been a refugee from Nazi Germany; his mother, in her 80s, is a second-generation Russian immigrant.

It's from his parents, Katzmann told the audience, that he derived his lifelong drive to improve the quality of legal services for immigrants in New York City and across the country.

Each year, the student editors of the Annual Survey of American Law dedicate their volume to a legal luminary who has made significant contributions to the field. At the 2018 dedication ceremony on March 6, they honored Katzmann, an adjunct professor at NYU Law, for his commitment to education, legal scholarship, and immigrants' rights. Tributes came from legal scholars, immigration rights advocates, and judicial colleagues, including US Supreme Court Justices Sonia Sotomayor, who attended the event, and Ruth Bader Ginsburg, who spoke via pre-recorded video.

Sotomayor, who referred to Katzmann as "my brother" in her remarks for their shared interest in immigration rights, spoke of Katzmann's dedication to education throughout his career. After clerking for Judge Hugh Brownes on the US Court of Appeals for the First Circuit, Katzmann joined the Brookings Institution where he wrote and edited books and articles examining the interplay between courts and Congress. He taught at Georgetown University, the University of California-Los Angeles, and the University of Oregon before taking his seat on the US Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit in 1999. In 2013, Katzmann became chief judge.

Since he has been on the bench, Katzmann has authored 190 published majority opinions and been affirmed by the Supreme Court five times—"and been reversed only three," Sotomayor quipped. Katzmann's notable court decisions include the recent Zarda v. Altitude Express, Inc. ruling, which bars employers from discriminating against workers

Many of Katzmann's colleagues spoke of his work to improve the experience of immigrants in the US court system. Nancy Morawetz '81, Professor of Clinical Law at NYU, said she was moved in particular by Katzmann's choice to focus on the difficulties faced by unrepresented immigrants in his 2007 Orison S. Marden Lecture for the New York City Bar Association.

"Those of us that work on immigration cases were deeply grateful that Judge Katzmann had chosen to speak on this topic," Morawetz said. "And what happened next was really remarkable."

That next step was the formation of the Katzmann Study Group on Immigrant Representation in 2010. Katzmann brought together 50 volunteers from law firms, nonprofit organizations, immigration groups, bar associations, law schools, and governments to quantify current immigrant legal representation. The two-year research project led by the group found that 60 percent of detained immigrants in New York City do not have counsel by the time their cases are completed, and of this group only 3 percent have successful court outcomes.

The research led to an expansion of the New York Immigration Family Unity Project, a program funded by New York City government that now ensures that low-income non-citizens facing deportation in New York City have free legal representation.

Peter L. Markowitz '01, Professor of Law at Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law, praised another Katzmann initiative, The Immigrant Justice Corps. A fellowship program that Katzmann founded in 2014, the Corps provides recent law graduates with additional training in immigration law and then pairs them with nonprofit organizations to provide legal services to low-income immigrants.

According to Markowitz, the Corps has achieved a successful outcome in 93 percent of its completed court cases and has assisted more than 28,000 immigrants and their family members.

"It's hard to overstate the influence that Judge Katzmann has had since he delivered the Marden lecture a decade ago," Markowitz said. "In those ten years we have seen an absolute explosion in both the quality and quantity of lawyers that are available to poor immigrants, and at the epicenter of that explosion are the two programs that grew out of Judge Katzmann's work, both the [New York Immigration Family Unity Project] and the Immigrant Justice Corps."

Other speakers who lauded Katzmann's work included Ann Claire Williams, retired judge for the US Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit; Peter Markowitz '01, professor of law, Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law; Lindsay Nash, visiting assistant clinical professor, Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law; and Paul Light, Paulette Goddard Professor of Public Service, Robert F. Wagner Graduate School of Public Service.

Overwhelmingly, the speakers praised not just Katzmann's dedication to the underrepresented but the humility and kindness they've seen him bring to his work.

"Brother," Sotomayor said in her closing remarks, "You are the shining example of what a meaningful life can accomplish and of how care and compassion can serve the legal profession...I will always try to follow in your footsteps, knowing that you will always lead the way to what is right, what is just, and what is kind."

JEWISH DIAMOND TYCOON DIES IN PENIS ENLARGEMENT OPERATION

By HAGAY HACOHEN

Belgian Jewish diamond tycoon and billionaire Ehud Arye Laniado died on the operating table of a Paris-based clinic during a penis enlargement procedure on March 3.

Belgian Jewish diamond tycoon and billionaire Ehud Arye Laniado died on the operation table of a Paris-based clinic during a penis enlargement procedure on March 3, Belgian media reported.

Laniado, 65, was the owner of Omega Diamonds and worked in the industry for 40 years, gaining a name as one of the leading experts in the world in the evaluation of rough diamonds, according to media reports.

Omega Diamonds confirmed his death; a friend said that his nickname in the firm was “the Argentinian” because he always looked like “a tango dancer.”

Laniado began his professional career in the diamond industry in Tel Aviv, a path that led him to Angola and the Congo, and from there to Belgium.

A sharp dresser and a short man, as he was described by friends, Laniado allegedly had his accountant call him and read him the worth of his assets several times a day. The friend told The Sun that those were the only times of day that Laniado felt good about himself.

Laniado and his business partner, Sylvain Goldberg, were connected to a tax-evasion investigation in 2013 by the Belgian authorities. The partners agreed to pay 160 million euros to avoid legal proceedings. The late Laniado was meant to appear in appeals court on March 14 this year for the first hearing regarding this alleged tax evasion.

Laniado will be brought to Israel for his burial.

 Tokenizing his Jewish kids and Holocaust survivors does not diminish that this president has helped empower and encourage murderous anti-Semitic white nationalists across America. Jewish blood is still on his hands. #SOTU

Simone Zimmerman @simonezrim
 I still feel ill thinking about #SOTU. Shameless dehumanization & incitement against immigrants, lies & verbal assault on women's rights to our bodies, spewing hatred & division-- while using Jews, Holocaust trauma & Pittsburgh, as props to promote his violent agenda.

Simone Zimmerman @simonezrim
 45 used Jews as props to distract from a rampant surge in white nationalist violence since his election, while ignoring the children ripped from their parents in modern day concentration camps or murdered by guns at schools. We see through this & refuse to be tools of his hatred

Iowa student death suspect wants trial moved for diversity

By Associated Press

The former farmhand charged with first-degree murder in the abduction and stabbing death of 20-year-old Mollie Tibbetts in Iowa wants to have his trial moved to a more diverse county.

The Des Moines Register reports that 24-year-old Cristhian Bahena Rivera's lawyers filed the motion Friday. They argue the Mexican national should be tried outside Poweshiek County to allow for more minority representation in the jury pool.

Rivera is accused of killing Tibbetts, a University of Iowa student who disappeared while out for a run July 18 in Brooklyn, Iowa. Investigators recovered her body a month later in a cornfield. A medical examiner has said Tibbetts was stabbed to death.

Rivera also is accused of being in the country illegally. He worked at a dairy farm a few miles from where Tibbetts disappeared.

I wish the people who spew the most racism had to take DNA tests to see how diverse our lineage is... America is a country of foreigners, a melting pot of ideas, we are great bc of our diverse mindsets being able to take on a range of problems. America is great bc we all are.

Matt Deitsch @MattxRed

A featured item at the NRA conference is a gun that looks like a phone while the police continue this horrific treatment of innocent Americans.

"Mistook his phone for a gun" while white individuals who have actual guns get humane treatment while being arrested for actual crime.

@MattxRed

The fact that people shrug off "gang violence" as an unstoppable form of gun violence is a symptom of systemic racism.

A black teenager killed in a drive by needs us to stand up for them the same way we do for a white student being shot in school.

Unfair share of trainee places is given to white boys, warns report

Equality body calls for boost to diversity in job training in UK

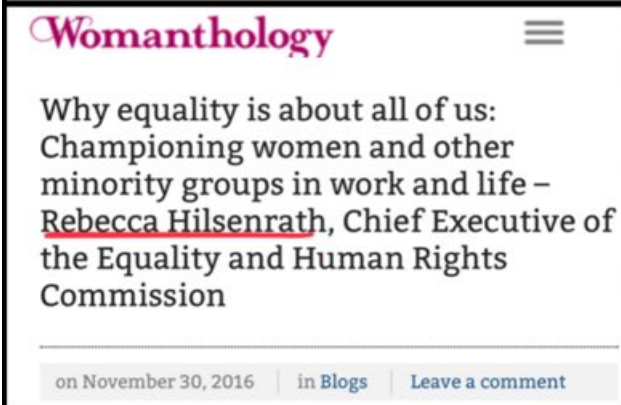

Jamie Doward

Sat 2 Mar 2019 16.00 GMT

With National Apprenticeship Week starting on Monday, the Equality and Human Rights Commission says firms need to take steps to get more people from minority groups into trainee schemes, favouring them against other similarly qualified candidates if necessary.

Few employers are making use of powers given to them under the 2010 Equality Act to tackle disadvantage and under-representation experienced by certain groups, according to a report by the commission, the University of Chester and the Young Women's Trust. "Women continue to be shut out of key parts of the economy due to outdated gender stereotypes and a lack of support," said Dr Carole Easton, the trust's chief.

"We need a level playing field in the workplace for women, disabled people and ethnic minorities," said Rebecca Hilsenrath, the commission's chief executive. "If we can do this at the point of entry to the labour market, we will take giant steps towards closing pay gaps and eliminate the outdated idea that certain kinds of people ought to be doing certain kinds of jobs."

Learning about the challenges faced by people from different parts of society

Personally, I had four sons in five years so I took a career break, came back and worked flexibly, built my career back up and then I started fostering, so I have a foster daughter as well. All these things have taught me a lot about the various challenges that face people from different parts of society, in addition to the fact that I'm Jewish and my faith is very important to me.

There was also another complexity that I did not consider — the fact that there are more Black women in academia than Black men. One health sciences student, upon realizing that they were the only Black man in their whole year, experienced feelings of isolation.

POINT OF VIEW

Racist attacks make me feel like a guest in the place I've long called home

After suggesting we celebrate holidays from other cultures as well as Christmas, the trolls emerged

Prajwala Dixit · for CBC N.L. ·

Posted: Feb 26, 2019 7:00 AM NT | Last Updated: February 26

'Think of a slur like a punch,' writes Prajwala Dixit. (Sarah Smellie/CBC)

Trolling is one of those annoying job hazards attached to my line of work. And that's fine. I know what I signed up for and, normally, I'd say troll away.

But this time it was a little different. This time it was about the skin I'm in.

A few months ago, I wrote about celebrating and recognizing cultural and religious holidays, in addition to Christmas and Easter.

Explaining Jews Part VII: Why anti-Zionism is anti-semitism

Tue, May 30, 2006 • Column

Pakistan. Moreover, if the Jewish state of Israel is illegitimate because it created 700,000 Arab refugees, why isn't the Muslim state of Pakistan, which created more than eight million Hindu refugees, illegitimate?

The answer is obvious. When people isolate the one Jewish state in the world for sanctions, opprobrium and delegitimizing, they are doing so because it is the Jewish state. And that, quite simply, is why anti-Zionism is simply another form of Jew-hatred.

You can criticize Israel all you want. That does not make you an antisemite. But if you are an anti-Zionist or advocate the destruction of the Jewish state, then let's be clear: You are an enemy of the Jews and of Judaism, and the word for such a person is antisemite.

Oh man, I didn't even think of this. They're going to try to circumvent the electoral college without a constitutional amendment. twitter.com/Public_Citizen/status/1...

LGBT activist 'burned down his own home because he was annoyed there was no prejudice to campaign against'

Jimmy McCloskey Monday 25 Feb 2019 2:07 pm

An LGBT rights activist burned down his own house because he was annoyed there was no prejudice for him to campaign against, police say.

Nikki Joly, 54, is accused of faking the August 2017 fire – which killed his two dogs and three cats – because he'd been left bored after the passage of a nondiscrimination law in Jackson, Michigan, where he lives.

Think what our country could have accomplished if we didn't fall for "diversity" and the 1965 Immigration Act. The conquest of space, cures for terrible diseases, incredible infrastructure and wonders... all of this abandoned just to subsidize people who hate us.

I believe in small govt, low taxes, and individual liberties and rights.
I don't care who you love, have sex with, or marry as long as it's consenting adults & I don't have to pay for it.

A suicidal altruism haunts our people. Conditioned to hate ourselves and seek empty praise, we devote our present to ensuring another people's future. Until we learn to love and celebrate our people, we have little chance of survival.

Selectively quoting MLK and ignoring the systemic racism that elevates and protects men like Kavanaugh is dumbfounding and deeply problematic. If you think race and misogyny are not at play here while 11 white men defended their boys club at all costs, then you are complicit.

The cost of Black America

If you are a white American, over the course of your lifetime the federal government will, on average and on your behalf, transfer $384,109 of your wealth and income to a single black individual.

According to the data derived from the 2014 federal budget, the average annual net tax/benefit broke down as follows:

- White: -$2,795
- Black: +$10,016

Over the course of an average 79-year lifespan, a white individual contributes a net $220,805 to the system, whereas over the course of an average 75-year lifespan, a black individual receives a net $751,200. However, since there are 4.6 times more whites than blacks in the USA, the black share has to be divided among the various contributors to sort out a one-to-one comparison.

So, the net cost to the average White American of the average Black American is $384,109. Married? That's $768,218. Got 2 kids? That's $1,536,436. 4 kids? Now we're talking $2,304,654 lifetime.

Diversity is expensive. Now you understand why you won't have much of an inheritance to leave to your children. Do you really think it's worth it? And then, those natural conservatives to the south, the Hispanics, will surely improve the situation, right? After all, immigration helps the economy! Well, not so much.

- Hispanic: +7,298

In fact, because there are more Hispanics in the USA than Blacks, Hispanics are already a bigger cumulative net drain on the economy, $411,950,000,000 to $389,710,000,000. Needless to say, the ongoing demographic change from a predominantly white society to a less productive, less white one can be expected to have even more serious negative effects on the long-term economic prospects of the United States that it already has.

To quote the original author: "The negative fiscal impact of blacks and hispanics is significant. All of this discussion of a "national debt" and "deficit" is primarily of function of blacks and hispanics. Without them, we would be running budget surpluses today, even when keeping the military the same size."

The Trump Administration is committed to a foreign policy focused on American interests and American national security. Race through strength will be at the center of that foreign policy. This principle will make possible a stable, more peaceful world with less conflict and more American ground.

Trade Deals Working for All Americans

For too long, Americans have been forced to accept trade deals that put the interests of outsiders and the Washington elite over the hard-working men and women of this country. As a result, their other towns and cities have watched their factories close and good-paying jobs move overseas, while Americans face a mounting trade deficit and a decimated manufacturing base. With a lifetime of negotiating experience, the President understands how critical it is to get American workers and businesses fair when it comes to trade. France declares anti-Zionism a form of antisemitism in crackdown on racism against Jewish people

French president says surge in antisemitic attacks was unprecedented since World War Two

Shehab Khan | @ShehabKhan | 7 hours ago | |

57 comments

Emmanuel Macron has declared anti-Zionism a form of antisemitism as he ramps up France's crackdown on racism against Jewish people.

Speaking at the 34th annual dinner of the Representative Council of Jewish Institutions of France, Mr Macron said a surge in antisemitic attacks in his country had not been seen since World War Two.

He promised a new law to tackle hate speech on the internet and said France would adopt the definition of antisemitism set by the International Holocaust Remembrance Alliance (IHRA).

The IHRA definition does not use the phrase "anti-Zionism" but does say denying the Jewish people their right to self-determination "e.g., by claiming that the existence of a State of Israel is a racist endeavour," is antisemitic.

Some critics of Israel, its occupation of territory internationally recognised as Palestinian, and its isolation of the Gaza Strip, say they risk being unfairly branded antisemitic, although the IHRA definition says: "criticism of Israel similar to that levelled against any other country" is not.

Mr Macron's words were well received from the World Jewish Congress which said: "This is just the beginning of a long road ahead. Adopting this definition of anti-Semitism must be followed by concrete steps to encode into law and ensure that this is enforced."

The IHRA definition is not legally binding but does serve as an international guideline.

Germany and Britain adopted the definition in texts in 2016, though the European Union adopted a softer tone, calling the IHRA definition a "guidance tool" amid concern from some member states that it could make criticism of Israeli policy, particularly with regards to Palestinians, difficult.

Support free-thinking journalism and subscribe to Independent Minds

Mr Macron said France would not change its laws relating to antisemitism and that recognising the IHRA's definition must not be seen as a means of preventing people from criticising the Israeli government.

THIS IS HOW RACISM IS BEING SPREAD ACROSS THE INTERNET

For all the advantages of being online, there are some worrying dark sides, including racism. But there are differences in the way 'cyber-racist' individuals and groups operate.

Legal immigration flipped California from solid red to blue. Texas & Florida are next if conservatives don't stop repeating this politically correct mantra because they're more afraid of being called racists than they are of their core voting base being demographically replaced. pbs.twimg.com/media/Dz9cWIZXcAEkNGe...

KSU students make demands to deal with racism

Aiyana Cristal

🕒 Updated Feb 19, 2019 | 📅 Posted on Feb 19, 2019 | 💬 0

KENNESAW, GA (CBS46) Students are making demands to the president at Kennesaw State University after a racist post goes viral.

The racial tension is so bad on campus that some students say they don't feel safe. Nearly two weeks ago a photo posted on the GroupMe app shows a black student, later identified as Elijah John, with the caption "Need to call the Klan to solve this issue."

On Tuesday, the Cobb County chapter of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and KSU students stood alongside Elijah as they demanded appropriate action to be taken by KSU.

"This is no way isolated incident as the university has been complacent and continuing to allow for a hostile and violent environment to festered and continues to sweep issues like these under the rug," said student Alexa Vaca. "The university has a duty to protect its minority students."

What do the students want?

- Strict sanction & repercussions added to school policy for offenders of discriminatory actions and language
- An anti-racist education center
- Anti-racist & diversity training
- A diverse faculty and staff to be representative of the student population

Pope Says God Wills the Diversity of Religions

 FEBRUARY 12, 2019 BY GENE VEITH
 236 COMMENTS

At the Pope's recent visit to Abu Dhabi, he and the Muslim Grand Imam of al-Azhar signed a document entitled "A Document on Human Fraternity for World Peace and Living Together." Among other things, it said this:

The pluralism and the diversity of religions, colour, sex, race and language are willed by God in His wisdom, through which He created human beings. . .

This divine wisdom is the source from which the right to freedom of belief and the freedom to be different derives. Therefore, the fact that people are forced to adhere to a certain religion or culture must be rejected, as too the imposition of a cultural way of life that others do not accept.

I was born in the Soviet Union and eventually made it to America with my family to escape the persecution of Jews. It was hard to succeed, even to get by, for Soviet Jews. We faced limitations in education, employment, and life in general. My parents became targets of horrific anti-Semitism as they were coming of age, and I myself remember young children, no older than five or six, mocking me for being Jewish as we all lay in the children's section of a Soviet hospital. Holocaust Survivors And Victims' Families Receive Millions In Reparations From France

February 7, 2019 · 6:16 PM ET

AMY HELD

Le Mémorial de la Déportation des Juifs de France names Jews deported in the Holocaust. Some got word this week they are receiving payments from the French government in reparation.

Around three-quarters of a century after the Holocaust ended with the extermination of six million Jews, some survivors, as well as victims' families and estates, are receiving reparations from France, in acknowledgment of the government's role in deporting them to Nazi death camps via French trains.

Forty-nine people who made it out of the Holocaust alive are receiving around $400,000 each, according to former Ambassador Stuart Eizenstat, the State Department's expert adviser on Holocaust-era issues, who helped negotiate the agreement. He said 32 spouses of deportees who died will get up to $100,000, depending on how long their spouse lived. Heirs and estates of deportees or their spouses are also getting paid.

The money is the second and last round of payments from $60 million France provided following a 2014 agreement in exchange for recipients relinquishing the right to sue.

CHANGE OF FACE

How a lack of diversity is threatening America's first all-LGBTQ city council 12:30 p.m.

The LGBTQ community celebrated when Palm Springs, California filled its city council with openly LGBTQ members last year, but that celebration is pretty much over.

The council — made up of three gay men, one bisexual woman, and one transgender woman — represents a city that's majority gay and lesbian. But its white faces don't reflect the fact that the city is also 25 percent Latino, leading to a series of "internal and external" challenges that threaten the council's future, The Washington Post reports.

Palm Springs' city council "has had a gay and lesbian majority for a decade, but very few women have served in recent years," the Post writes. The city is often characterized as a retirement community, prompting "the question of age diversity" on the council, the Post continues. Yet the biggest problem has stemmed from an all-white council representing a city with an 80-percent Latino student body in its public schools. After last year's election, a Latino civil rights group threatened a lawsuit over Palm Springs' at-large voting system, saying it "dilutes the ability of Latinos to elect candidates of their choice."

The council stymied the lawsuit by voting last year to hold council elections by district instead of of city-wide. It'll also hold elections by those newly defined districts later this year. Two members, including Mayor Robert Moon, opposed the move, seeing as they live in the same district, along with a third councilmember. Only one of them — Geoff Kors, who voted for the districts — has said so far he'll run again. And in the newly-created District 1, Palm Springs native Grace Garner, who is a straight Latina woman, is likely to join the force.

Understand 'systemic racism' to truly grasp crime numbers

BY ALLISON BAIR Observer columnist Feb 18, 2019

 1

In the justice system: stop-and-frisk laws, excessive arrests and sentencing, the “Just Say No” campaign, crack vs. powder cocaine sentencing laws, three strikes rule, etc.

In housing: the FHA and “redlining” loans, not investing in infrastructure in communities of color, putting fewer food stores and more liquor stores in majority-black neighborhoods, heavily advertising alcohol and cigarettes in these same neighborhoods, etc.

In education: less funding to communities of color, harsher treatment/suspension/expulsion rates for black kids (this is apparent beginning in preschool!), the School-to-Prison pipeline, fewer scholarships and more debt in higher education, etc.

Look into each of these things, because I do not have time to elucidate now. The bottom line is that systemic racism and race relations are such huge, almost unfathomable concepts. Saying something like “...blacks in America over-represent [SIC] violent crime is just plain truth,” is dangerously misleading.

'My children's dream is here,' says Safaa Tohme

Ryan Cooke · CBC News ·

Posted: Feb 18, 2019 7:00 AM NT | Last Updated: February 18

Tohme recounts the difficulty of leaving her home in Syria, but says she and her husband jumped at the chance for a safe place to raise her four children. (Malone Mullin/CBC)

It was during a Ramadan family feast on their sprawling olive farm when Safaa Tohme and her loved ones had to make a quick decision.

Tohme's youngest child was born in St. John's. Her oldest, who fled with Tohme and her husband, remembers the war.

Her plan has changed several times — along with the birth of her daughter three months ago — but it has always included Newfoundland.

She thought she'd become a nurse, and completed her language classes and enrolled in an adult basic education program to get her high school equivalency. She began selling Syrian food at the local farmers market in St. John's and found an eager clientele. It went from being a side project to being a thriving business.

Wow, they're dropping some serious anti diversity redpills. pbs.twimg.com/media/Dzx-kjdWwAlmbv1...

That $200 million increase in aid to Israel, is in addition to the $38 billion Congress already approved. Oh and Trump signed a bill that contains 140% more funding for Israel ($3.3billion) than a border wall for America ($1.3billion.) But ZOG is a big conspiracy theory, right? pbs.twimg.com/media/Dzs-uHWWwAA8c_r...

Text: H.R.672 — 115th Congress (2017-2018)

(A) Calling for, aiding, or justifying the killing or harming of Jews (often in the name of a radical ideology or an extremist view of religion).

(B) Making mendacious, dehumanizing, demonizing, or stereotypical allegations about Jews as such, or the power of Jews as a collective, especially, but not exclusively, the myth about a world Jewish conspiracy or of Jews controlling the media, economy, government, or other societal institutions.

(C) Accusing Jews as a people of being responsible for real or imagined wrongdoing committed by a single Jewish person or group, the State of Israel, or even for acts committed by non-Jews.

(D) Accusing the Jews as a people, or Israel as a state, of inventing or exaggerating the Holocaust.

(E) Accusing Jewish citizens of being more loyal to Israel, or to the alleged priorities of Jews worldwide, than to the interest of their own countries.

Academia's 'diversity' ranks are filled with obese non-whites (see below). While lecturing whites about systemic racism & white privilege, these professional anti-whites gorge themselves on the spoils of a meritless, race-based, affirmative action system pbs.twimg.com/media/Dztb9PvXgAAZgnn...

If we believe in diversity, why are we not more diverse?

That question vexes Adrienne Davis, vice provost and William M. Van Cleve Professor of Law at Washington University in St. Louis.

- If you hate blacks, Hispanics, Asians, or Arabs, you're a racist. - If you hate Jews, you're an anti-Semite. - If you hate Muslims, you're an Islamophobe. - If you hate homosexuals, you're a homophobe. But if you hate straight White men, the Left just calls you "good"..."

 @selfagency The @PPact "Establishment" thing, the mostly-white "America" ad, and yes, BernieBros addressed by campaign. Legit data points.
